SUBJECT: Unocode classic spare parts and servicing

We just wanted to inform you all that the Unocode classic electronic key cutting machine has been obsolete (out of production) for over 10 years.

Our Repair Dept. can no longer guarantee that these machines can be repaired due to the fact that almost all spare parts (except the cutter and clamp knob) are no longer available.

With this service news we are informing all customers that Silca Italy can no longer accept Unocode classic machines or any of its components to be returned to Silca Italy for repair.
